

Indo.Earth — Content Removal Policy

Last updated: April 2026

Indo.Earth is a community built on respect, safety, and cultural connection.

To protect users and maintain a positive environment, we may remove content when it violates our rules or legal requirements.

1. Types of Content That May Be Removed

Content may be removed without prior notice if it includes:

Hate Speech or Harassment

- Racism, discrimination, slurs
- Bullying, targeting or harming individuals or groups

Illegal Content

- Fraud, scams, threats, or criminal activity
- Copyright infringement
- Content prohibited by Dutch/EU law or international standards

Explicit or Adult Content

- Sexual content involving minors (zero tolerance)
- Pornographic material
- Inappropriate or explicit imagery

Dangerous or Harmful Content

- Self-harm promotion
- Violence
- Encouragement of dangerous acts

Spam or Advertising

- Unsolicited promotions
- Repetitive or irrelevant messages

Privacy Violations

- Posting private information of others
- Doxxing
- Screenshots or messages without consent

Misinformation or Misrepresentation

- False claims that could harm others
- Impersonation of users or public figures

2. Who Can Remove Content?

Content may be removed by:

- Indo.Earth moderation team
- Automated safety systems
- Administrators of Antz B.V.

Moderation may occur with or without user notification.

3. What Happens After Content Removal?

Depending on severity:

- The post or comment may be hidden or deleted
- The user may receive a warning
- The account may be temporarily restricted
- Repeat violations may lead to permanent removal

Severe violations (e.g. harm to children, threats, illegal activity) may be reported to authorities.

4. User Rights

If your content is removed, you may:

- Request clarification
- Appeal removal decisions
- Submit a revised version

Contact: info@antz.nl

5. Final Authority

Indo.Earth reserves the right to remove any content that threatens:

- Safety
- Community wellbeing
- Platform functionality
- Legal compliance